Dear Contributors of ICDM-3,

GOOD NEWS!

The editors of International Journal of Damage Mechanics have decided to launch a special issue for ICDM-3. The publication of the special issue on IJDM includes the following steps:

- 1) Registration of ICDM-3 should be finished in time and a full paper should be submitted to the web system of ICDM-3 (<http://www.icdm3.cn/>) before the conference;
- 2) The preliminary review would be finished by the MS organizers during the conference and 1-2 papers could be recommended by each MS;
- 3) The extended full paper should be submitted to IJDM within six month after ICDM-3 as a special issue paper and the full process of review is required by IJDM.

Moreover, the journal Computer Modeling in Engineering and Sciences is also planning a special issue for ICDM-3. The procedure of publication is similar to that for IJDM. We will launch the formal call-for-papers ASAP. The rest of papers are also planned to be published by a publisher after conference as the proceedings of ICDM-3.

Note: the full paper is not required by ICDM-3. You can take part in the conference by registration and abstract.

The deadline for the early bird registration is 20th May 2018. More details can be found by logging in the register system. The register/payment system has been available on the website of ICDM3 (<http://www.icdm3.cn/>). Please logon the registration system and process the registration at your convenience. The presentations and posters will be scheduled based on the registration information. The detailed time table of ICDM-3 will be available soon.

Please kindly notice the information about visa!
